ABOUT AALDP

AALDP is a transformative, 10-month leadership development experience for high-achieving individuals looking to grow personally and professionally. Designed for a select group of established leaders, the program provides space for corporate, healthcare, education and nonprofit professionals to connect and engage through a dynamic and supportive learning environment.

AALDP builds a powerful network of peers committed to excellence, service, and influence. Participants leave the program ready to engage and serve both their organizations and their community in new and powerful ways.

Organizations support candidates for this program because AALDP strengthens talent retention and succession planning by offering a rigorous curriculum focused on leadership excellence, civic engagement, and holistic professional growth, ensuring participants are well-positioned to deliver sustained contributions to their companies and the broader community.
